

Financial strength

Rated "A" for excellent balance sheet strength and operating performance 20 years in a row.¹

When you purchase life insurance, you want to be sure the insurer is financially sound and going to be around a long time.

The origins of Foresters Financial™ date back to 1874 when The Independent Order of Foresters (IOF) was founded as a fraternal benefit society. Fraternal benefit societies operate on a not-for-profit basis. Foresters profits go towards fulfilling our purpose: to enrich family and community well-being.

Since our humble origins, Foresters has grown into an international financial service provider with over 2 million members² in Canada, the US, and the UK. Foresters maintains a strong financial position with assets of $18.5 billion and a surplus of $2.1 billion.³

For 20 consecutive years, the independent rating agency A.M. Best has given The IOF an "A" (Excellent) rating for excellent balance sheet strength and operating performance.

The Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions (OSFI) closely monitors life insurance companies and requires them to maintain a Life Insurance Capital Adequacy Test (LICAT) ratio above supervisory levels. Foresters maintains a strong LICAT ratio that comfortably exceeds the required levels.

Strong enough to stand on our own

Foresters carefully manages our own financial reserves. Fraternal benefit societies, like The IOF, are not members of the Canadian guarantee fund, Assuris, and cannot be assessed to pay for the insolvency of other carriers. In the event the reserves of a class of certificates become impaired, Foresters members may be subject to a special assessment to maintain reserves. However, Foresters has assessed members only once in 1913 for certificates issued before 1898.

Foresters focuses on strong operational performance and careful management in order to withstand adverse business and market conditions. We continue to innovate products and services that go beyond financial planning to provide benefits that empower you – our clients and members – to make a positive difference in the world.
